

Our Wedding Planner

✦ ✦ ✦

For two people who want to get married and stay calm doing it

THE TWO OF US

OUR DATE

PLAN WITH HEART. CELEBRATE WITHOUT STRESS.

Welcome, you two

Before we start, a few honest words.

Congratulations on your engagement! From now on you will make roughly 400 decisions, from the venue to whether Uncle Ernie should really be handed a microphone. This planner keeps you on top of all of it, so you don't drown in spreadsheets.

It is split into eight chapters, roughly in the order you will need them. You don't have to fill in everything. Use what helps and skip the rest.

One tip from many weddings: plan what matters to you first, and only then what others expect. Nobody remembers the colour of the napkins, but everyone remembers whether the two of you looked happy.

Print edition

Print it, punch holes, put it in a binder. Print pages like the guest list as often as you need.

Tablet edition

Open it in GoodNotes, Notability or any PDF app. The tabs on the right take you straight to each chapter.

Filling it in

Every field is fillable. Type straight into it on your computer or tablet, or write by hand.

What we promise ourselves while planning

For example: one evening a week with no wedding talk.

With love, JasminaArtDesign

CHAPTER 1

Our Vision

First the feeling, then the decor.

Who are you as a couple, and how should your day feel? Once that is clear, every other decision gets easier.

Our Story

For later. And for the speeches.

How we met

Where, when, and who said something first

The proposal

What happened, and what went through our heads?

What I love about you

Each of you writes three things

Our best moment so far

The one we keep coming back to

Our Dream Wedding

Three words your day should feel like.

OUR DAY IN THREE WORDS

FIRST WORD

SECOND WORD

THIRD WORD

Season

Spring, summer, autumn, winter?

Size

Roughly how many guests?

Style

Boho, classic, garden, barn ...

Place

Indoors, outdoors, abroad?

Three things we absolutely want

Without them it wouldn't be our day

Three things we definitely don't want

Not even if family asks

What Really Matters to Us

Each of you scores 1 to 5. Where you both score high, that's where the money goes.

Talks We'd Rather Have Now

Better now over wine than in March in front of the caterer.

1. Who pays for what? Us, our parents, or everyone a bit?

2. Kids at the wedding: yes, no, or only family?

3. Inviting exes: totally fine or absolutely not?

4. Do single guests get a plus-one?

5. How much say do our families get?

Talks We'd Rather Have Now

Part two. You've got this.

6. Civil, religious, a celebrant, or all of them?

7. Whose last name will we use after the wedding?

8. What do we do if the budget isn't enough?

9. At how many guests does it stop feeling like us?

10. Which traditions do we keep, and which do we skip?

Our Mood Board

Colours, fabrics, ideas. Anything that feels right goes here.

CHAPTER 2

Budget

Love is priceless. Everything else, sadly, is not.

A clear budget is the best gift you can give yourselves. It saves arguments, nerves and, in the end, money.

Our Wedding Budget

Plan honestly, celebrate calmly. Champagne included.

Guests

You can't invite everyone. And that's okay.

The guest list decides your venue, budget and atmosphere. Keep track here, from the first list to the last thank-you card.

Our A, B and C List

So the guest list doesn't end in a family feud.

A list

No wedding without them

Questions Worth Asking

Before you sign anything.

VENUE

- [ ] What is included in the price, and what costs extra?
- [ ] Is there a minimum guest count or minimum spend?
- [ ] Until what time can music play?
- [ ] Can we bring our own drinks or vendors?

CATERING

- [ ] Is there a tasting?
- [ ] How do you handle allergies and vegetarian requests?
- [ ] Are staff included, and for how long?

PHOTOGRAPHY

- [ ] Can we see full weddings, not just highlights?
- [ ] When do we get the photos, and in what format?
- [ ] What happens if you are ill?

MUSIC

- [ ] Do you take requests, and what won't you play?
- [ ] Do you bring equipment and a microphone?
- [ ] What does each extra hour cost?

CHAPTER 6

The Big Day

Something always goes wrong. You still get married.

Timeline, tasks, emergency kit and speeches. So on the day everyone knows what to do, and you can simply be there.

Our Wedding Day Timeline

Add 15 minutes to everything. That's not pessimism, that's experience.

Our Plan B

If you have a plan B, you usually won't need it.

If it rains

Tent, umbrellas, another room?

If someone is late

Who steps in, what do we move?

If the tech fails

Music, microphone, projector

If I get nervous

What helps me, who calms me down?

Our Vows

Drafts, favourite lines and everything you want to say.

My promise to you
